

POST CARDS FROM ROCKY NOOK KINGSTON, MASSACHUSETTS

*Jones River Village
Historical Society
Summer Exhibition
At the Major John
Bradford Homestead*

Opening Day:
June 26, 2010.
On display through the end of August.

Rocky Nook, a neighborhood in Kingston, on the peninsula where the Jones River meets the Atlantic Ocean, near to Duxbury, became in the early twentieth century and, thereafter, an important summer community and resort area, reaching its height in the 1950's where cottages were built and summer residents enjoyed festivities, celebrations, clambakes and dances and shows in a pavilion .

THE JONES RIVER VILLAGE HISTORICAL SOCIETY
CORNER OF MAPLE STREET AND LANDING ROAD, KINGSTON

781.585.6300 - - - WWW.JRVHS.ORG